The wallcovering in my location is simply white paint. The wall has lots of small 'vague' covers made of thick card. The room is ~~not~~ large, but it does not create any echo.

Type of Wallcovering
The floor in my bedroom is plain carpet. Currently there is a rug present, but as this is intended for my short-term stay and could potentially be a slip hazard, this has been removed.

Type of Floor
There should be no external noise interference, as the bedroom is at the top of the house, away from anyone else who could be present. Also the house is in a very rural area, so there will be little noise from cars.

External Surroundings (noise interference)
Just a plain field and fence, nothing that will distract from the overan or cause any acoustic or any extended project.

The sun location will change throughout the day. The time of shoot is 10:00 - 15:00, and between this time the sun should be up, and to make it less of a need to worry about the sun setting when filming.
